Once again the only issue during the season was in obtaining the actual dates games were played on, this only concerned club internal & the Individual championship as I receive a copy of the submitted match sheet for both League & KO Cup.

Regarding club championships this problem has just about been resolved in the CCA at least

I have never received any Cleveland individual results just taking them from the website when they appeared (which wasn't a problem previously) no dates are given just that black is the home player so I had to guess that the game was played on blacks club night during the week the result was put up on the website and ask for confirmation via the chessne1 forum.

During this coming season can I ask the organiser to send me any results when he receives them, and the competitors to supply him with match dates please

I have had two requests for JAN grades to be corrected (upwards obviously) because a good result was not included in the most recent count back to the 30 game qualification (due to the lack of a date for the match being given) their good game result was put back to the beginning of the season, no correction was possible,.

As RH say's "the system doesn't care if you play all your games on New Year's Day" it will only accept the date you give it, if you don't give it then one will be allocated not necessarily the right one.

Lack of match dates shouldn't bother me , but I was of the opinion that if people couldn't be bothered with such a simple request then I wouldn't bother giving my time up either but things seem to be improving .
